Organisation & Project

Understanding the social purpose behind the creative work.

InAmigos Foundation

- InAmigos Foundation provided the setting for the internship.
- The work was connected with community-oriented initiatives.
- Project SEWA – Food & Clothing Distribution was a key project theme.

Project SEWA

- Support communication around basic-needs distribution.
- Create clear, simple and engaging awareness messages.
- Understand how resources and fundraising support social initiatives.

Internship Objectives

What I aimed to learn and contribute

- Understand the practical functioning of a social-impact project.
- Contribute to food and clothing distribution activities.
- Understand the importance of fundraising and financial resources.
- Develop communication, teamwork and coordination skills.
- Create and support awareness-oriented content.
- Build professional responsibility, discipline and confidence.

Five Major Task Areas

The task areas below are based on the work and scope documented in the internship report.

1

Awareness poster design

Create clear visual material for social-impact messages.

2

Short-form reel content

Support concise video concepts for awareness and engagement.

3

Project SEWA communication

Support communication around food and clothing distribution.

4

Fundraising support

Contribute to fundraising communication and understand the role of funds.

5

Social-media creative support

Prepare awareness and promotional content for communication.

Task 1–2: Creative Content

Focus on visual hierarchy, concise messaging and audience-focused design.

1

Awareness Poster Design

Worked on awareness-oriented visual content. The focus was on presenting a social message clearly, using simple hierarchy, readable text and an engaging composition.

2

Short-Form Reel Content

Supported short-form awareness concepts. This helped develop skills in concise storytelling, visual sequencing and communication suited to quick audience attention.

Task 3–5: Impact & Communication

Connecting creative work with project participation and resource mobilisation.

3

Project SEWA Communication

Supported communication connected with food and clothing distribution and the importance of helping people access basic necessities.

4

Fundraising Support

The internship changed my understanding of fundraising: I learned that financial resources are essential for turning social initiatives into sustained action.

5

Social-Media Creative Support

Prepared or supported promotional and awareness-oriented communication, with attention to clarity, consistency and audience engagement.

Work Methodology

A practical, iterative workflow used throughout the internship.

- The process emphasized understanding requirements, receiving feedback, improving the work and maintaining professional communication.
